TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

The Department of Chemical Sciences, Tezpur University offered M. Sc. in Applied Chemistry programme during 2006-2010 covering all the basic components of Chemistry such as Inorganic Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, Physical Chemistry, Quantum Chemistry, Spectroscopy, Computers in Chemistry, Inorganic Chemistry Laboratory, Organic Chemistry Laboratory and Physical Chemistry Laboratory. In addition, the department offered specialized elective papers in Catalysis, Medicinal Chemistry, Environmental and Green Chemistry, Natural Products, Polymer Chemistry, Solid State Chemistry etc. Moreover, a course on "Chemical Engineering Principles" was also offered as a component of Applied Chemistry syllabus.

The course is equivalent to the M. Sc. courses offered by other Indian Universities in Chemistry with conventional specialization in Inorganic Chemistry, Organic Chemistry and Physical Chemistry. The syllabus also covered the UGC-CSIR NET prescribed courses in Chemical Sciences.

Therefore, the post-graduates passing out of the Department of Chemical Sciences, Tezpur University with M. Sc. in Applied Chemistry should be treated at par with M. Sc. in Chemistry offered by other Universities of India.

This has the approval of the 21st meeting of the Academic Council vide resolution no. AC.21/2013/2/2.5 held on 19th December, 2013.
