

31st National Conference Condensed Matter Days

JANUARY 22ND-24TH 2024

About the Conference : CMDAYS-2023

The 31st edition of the national conference on condensed matter Physics, Condensed Matter Days, 2023, "CMDAYS2023", will be held at the Department of Physics, Tezpur University, Napaam, Assam, India. CMDAYS provides a unique platform for young researchers and domain experts to discuss, share, and present their works related to topics in the field of condensed matter physics. The conference anticipated a vibrant atmosphere with the presence of a large physicist community with eminent scientists across the nation for sharing and creating new ideas with opportunities for collaboration among students and researchers from various branches of science and technology. The Department of Physics is also celebrating its 25 years of establishment.
