INSTRUCTION

The bill which has been prepared in the University Office is forwarded to the payee with the request that he will present it either personally or through a messenger after having duly stamped and signed it.

Payment will be made either to the payee himself or to his messenger duly authorized to receive. If there is any objection to signing the receipt in advance, it need not to be done, but in such a case, the payee should call at the University office to receive payment and to sign and receipt.

Bill should always, be signed though it need not necessarily be receipted, before it is presented.

The bill must be completely filled in before presentation.
