

You're Invited!

Join us for a thought-provoking documentary screening and discussion on the alarming increase in Unnecessary Cesarean Sections in India.

Event Details:

Date: January 31, 2025 (Friday)

Time: 3:00pm - 4:30pm

Location: Multipurpose Hall, Department of Social Work, Tezpur University, Assam.

About the Documentary:

"A Million Cuts" directed by Reshma Ghosh sheds light on the growing trends of Cesarean births in India, highlighting the factors contributing to this rise and its implications on maternal and child health.

Discussion Session:

Following the screening, there will be a dedicated discussion session where the audience can reflect on the subject concerned and understanding of natural birth and uprising Cesarean Cases in India.

The event is open for all so please consider sharing further to maximize the outreach. We look forward to your presence!