

Facilitating Participatory Workshops

Six-day Residential Workshop

Objectives of the Workshop

- Explore opportunities to engage in learning as an organic process;
- Contextualise learning as a self-engaging response to one's socio-cultural reality;
- Find out whether participation is crucial in supporting and enabling a learning process for positive change.

Who can participate?

- Mid-level academics from north-east and eastern India
- Senior and mid-level NGO professionals
- Government employees engaged in community level interventions or staff training

Facilitators

Anju Uppal & Prabir Bose
(Vikalp Kriya, Mumbai)

Dates

February 23 to 28, 2015

Venue

Dept. of Mass Communication &
Journalism, Tezpur University

Last date of Registration

February 18, 2015

For registration please contact-

Prof. Sunil Kr. Dutta (Head, Dept. of MCJ, TU)

Mobile no: 9435185424

Email: hod_mcj@tezu.ernet.in

Dr. Joya Chakraborty (Coordinator)

Mobile no: 9435749345

Email: joya.chakraborty@gmail.com

Click here for registration form

For all those who constantly engage with learning communities, this workshop would contribute towards indicating a roadmap for enriching learning opportunities. It will explore possibilities of designing, adopting or adapting tools, exercises or methods that provoke a critical and creative thought process.

NB:

- The participants will be provided stay, food and resource materials during the workshop. Accommodation on sharing basis will be available from February 22 (evening) till March 1 (morning).
- Participants have to make their own travel arrangements via shortest route. Travel support on actuals for economy class up to a maximum of Rs.10,000/- will be provided on production of tickets to outstation participants.