

Tezpur University Wins NE Leg of “The Great Debate 2014”

The students of Tezpur University have won the North East Leg of the All India Inter University Debate Competition named “The Great Debate 2014” organized by the British High Commission, Kolkata in partnership with the Debating Society IIT Guwahati. Altogether 18 teams from different educational institutes in the North Eastern Region including two from Tezpur University participated in the event organized in two rounds. In the final round held on October 17, 2014 at the Conference Hall 3 of IIT Guwahati, Team A from Tezpur University comprising Kalyani Kaushik, a B. Tech. student of the Department of Mechanical Engineering and Ayushman Devraj, an Integrated MA student of the Department of English & Foreign Languages was adjudged the Best Team. They will now represent the North Eastern Region in the national competition to be held in New Delhi in November this year.