

16 October, 2012

Professor Mihir K Chaudhuri is Elected
Vice President of Indian National Science Academy

The Indian National Science Academy (INSA), New Delhi has elected Professor Mihir K Chaudhuri, FASc, FNA, Vice Chancellor, Tezpur University, as the Vice President of the Academy for a three year term. The decision was taken in the Annual General Meeting of the Council of INSA held on 4 October, 2012.

It may be mentioned that INSA is a premiere science Academy of the country which plays a critical role in promoting, recognizing and rewarding excellence in science. INSA also acts as a link between the scientific community and the planner and advises the Government on Science and Technology issues.