Workshop on Action Research

May 8, 2018

Teaching Learning Centre, Tezpur University is organizing a one-day Workshop on Development of Structure for Action Research on May 8, 2018 (Tuesday). Action research is a process of study conducted by systematically collecting data on someone's everyday practice in order to analyse and to come to some conclusions on the ongoing practice or its alternative(s), which may be considered for adoption. In teaching learning environment action research plays a very important role in developing innovative pedagogy and evaluation systems.

Aim: This workshop aims at generating the basic understanding of methodology and tools for conducting scientific action research. The major theme would be to guide the budding researchers on determining pedagogical input for discipline specific teaching.

Who should join: Any faculty member from the University/College system are welcome to join the programme.

There is no registration fee for joining the workshop. However, interested faculty members may fill up the following online form on or before 07/05/2018.
